Maths	Thursday evening - complete the first draft of the practice quiz (they may take home their booklets or folders to help them, and use Hegarty Maths and their knowledge organisers for help). By Tuesday: pupils must complete 'Practice Quiz 2' of the practice quiz, marking and improving their work based on the annotations they made in Friday's lesson. They should take it in test conditions, NOT blindly copy the work.
Hegarty Maths Online HW	Pupils should complete at least 4 topics per week. On the Hegarty website there is a 'donut' that displays how many topics have been completed. Your child should be filling up their donut.
English	Once per week: Revision from a previous unit (e.g. write an essay plan/ learn quotations- varies from week to week) Once per week: Practice exam question or essay plan, series of short questions, or essay- varies from week to week.
Science	A minimum of one page of A5 of self-quizzing each week on the correct knowledge organiser.
History	Two pieces of extended writing every other week. The other week's homework will be a mixture of revision from knowledge grids and narrative accounts and other homework activities, such as short exam practice set by the teacher.
Religion	Two pieces of extended writing every other week. The other week's homework will be learning quotations or other homework activities, such as short exam practice set by the teacher.
French Online HW	Learning homework of up to 10 sentences, and tasks set on thisislanguage.com .
